

OLMO

Giuseppe King

Nearly twins, mine is s/n 56-4502. There was a lot of surface rust on the fork and some on the stays, but fortunately no really deep pitting. It cleaned up pretty well with naval jelly (before I learned of oxalic acid.). At 56cm c-t it's right on the edge of too small for me, but I think it will be ok. I had a link to an old catalog that showed the Firenze with the Galli group, but lost it. I'll post it later if I can find it.
